NNEC Conference 2010

NNEC
NATO NETWORK ENABLED CAPABILITY

NNEC effects everyone; from the political level down to the battlefield. The annual NNEC conference is NATO's primary forum to exchange information and views on a wide array of NNEC related topics between all stakeholders. In 2010 the event will focus on the complexities of information management in the environment of joint coalition forces.

The annual NNEC conference is just one of the many ways to bring NNEC to the forefront of everyone mind. Through dedication, reinforcement of NNEC principles, and continued communications we will succeed in adhering to the basic foundation principles of NNEC which will save lives and will contribute to greater mission success.

Information Management -

Challenges for the future warfighter

The theme of the 7th NNEC Conference is "Information Management – challenges for the future warfighter." The intention is to bring together experts, either with operational or technical background, from Nations, NATO entities, and Industry to address these issues.

The annual conference draws national attention as seen during the 2009 event with registration from more than 30 countries and 400 attendees.

Participate in this quintessential NNEC event, register on-line today at:

Join your colleagues who will be working to tackle the complex initiatives that NNEC carries at this years conference. Participate in initiating these opportunities, the exchange of new ideas, and the possibility to coordinate conceptual approaches. The outcomes directly affect how we will be implementing this capability which assists our service men and women in their current and future missions.
